

App Policy: Privacy and Data Protection

At SQRT App, we prioritize the privacy and data protection of our users. We are committed to complying with the Google Play Developer Program Policies and ensuring a safe and secure environment for our app users. The following policy outlines our approach to privacy and data protection:

User Data Collection and Usage:

- a. Our app does not collect any personally identifiable information or user data.
- b. We do not track, store, or share any personal information or data from our app users.

Permissions:

- a. Our app only requests permissions that are necessary for its core functionality.
- b. We do not request excessive or unnecessary permissions from users.

Advertising and Monetization:

- a. Our app does not include any advertising or monetization features.
- b. We do not display ads or use any third-party services for advertising purposes.

Children's Privacy:

- a. Our app is not targeted towards children, and we do not knowingly collect data from users under the age of 13.
- b. We do not collect any personal information from children.

Updates and Notification:

- a. We will keep our app users informed about any changes to our privacy practices or policies.
- b. Users will be provided with a prominent and easily accessible way to review our app's privacy policy.

By adhering to this policy, we assure our users that their privacy is protected, and their data is not collected or shared. We strive to maintain compliance with the Google Play Developer Program Policies and will regularly review and update our practices to align with evolving privacy standards and legal requirements.
